CONNECTING LEADERS IN AI, DATA, BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY

AI IN A WORD

WE NEED AI & DATA NOW, MORE THAN EVER

In October 2020, Tel Aviv will host the 4th edition of Future of AI, a leading international conference on the most disruptive technologies and solutions of AI and data.

During these difficult times, AI, machine learning and data are helping the world in its fight against the coronavirus pandemic.

In researching the virus and developing vaccines and cures, in delivering healthcare services, and in analysis and decision making by governments and public authorities - AI, machine learning & data are being used and are needed now more than ever.

Future of AI brings together the companies with the best AI, machine learning & data solutions that enable businesses and organisations to benefit in so many ways, save costs, and continue to serve their customers globally while facing various challenges.

We invite you to join us at Future of AI Tel Aviv 2020 and take your businesses to the next level!
